

Stan Soloway

President & CEO

Celero Strategies, LLC

Stan Soloway is President & CEO of Celero Strategies, LLC, a full-service strategic consultancy focused on the federal market. Celero Strategies is Soloway's latest step in a career during which he has become widely regarded as one of the nation's leading experts on the federal market and the factors and dynamics that drive it. Stan is also a Fellow of both the National Academy of Public Administration and the National Contract Management Association, a Senior Advisor to Hacking Defense, a Principal at the Partnership for Public Service, where he serves as a Senior Advisor to Government Executives (SAGE), and a regular contributor to Government Executive magazine.

Prior to founding Celero Strategies, Stan served for 15 years as the President & CEO of the Professional Services Council, the largest and most influential national association of government technology and professional services firms. While at PSC, Soloway was the industry's leading voice, policy strategist and resource for both government and the private sector. He has been a contributing author for books published by Cambridge University, Harvard Law School, and the University of Pennsylvania, and co-authored the 2021 report "Other Transactions Authorities: After 60 Years, Hitting Their Stride or Hitting a Wall?" published by the IBM Center for the Business of Government.

Stan was the recipient of the 2016 Consumer Electronics Show (CES) Government Technology Leadership Award and, in 2015, was inducted into the Greater Washington Government Contractor Hall of Fame. He also was named the IT Industry Executive of the Year in 2013 by Government Computer News; has been named one of the 100 most influential business leaders in Washington (Washington Business Journal), one of the 100 most influential figures in national defense (Defense News/Gannett), and is a three-time winner of the Federal Computer Week "Federal 100" Award.

During the second half of the Clinton Administration, Stan served as the Deputy Under-secretary of Defense and was responsible for wide-ranging reforms to defense acquisition policy and broader department-wide re-engineering. In recognition of his leadership in the department, Stan was awarded both the Secretary of Defense Medal for Exceptional Public Service and the Secretary of Defense Medal for Distinguished Public Service. Stan also served from 2007 to 2013 as a Senate-confirmed member of the Board of Directors of Americorps. Earlier in his career he was a public policy and public affairs consultant and also co-produced the acclaimed PBS series "Great Confrontations at the Oxford Union."

Stan is a graduate of Denison University, where he was elected to the National Men's Leadership, National Political Science, and National Journalism honorary societies.
